Heine. Eng. Trans. by M. V. W.

AT FIRST I THOUGHT I SHOULD DESPAIR.

Heine touches our hearts; his songs are all music and feeling— They are like birds that not only enchant us with their delicious notes but nestle against us with their soft breasts and make us feel the agitated beating of their hearts He indicates a whole sad history in a single quatrain; there is not an image in it, not a thought; but it is beautiful, simple, and perfect as a "big round tear"— it is pure feeling, breathed in pure music.
